

Nation Media Group Partners with UoN in Nairobi Innovation Week 2017

The Nation Media Group (NMG) has signed a working partnership agreement with the University of Nairobi during the Nairobi Innovation Week 2017.

Speaking during the signing ceremony, the Vice-Chancellor, Prof. Peter Mbithi, said that indeed UoN is proud to be associated with NMG in the NIW2017.

“Since its establishment in 2015, the Nairobi Innovation Week has become a pronounced national event that brings together partners from government, private sector, development partners and research centres with an aim of providing a platform for show-casing and encouraging innovation over and above networking and sharing knowledge,” he said.

Mr. Tom Mshindi, the Editor-in-Chief, NMG, said that the media house is delighted to work with UoN in the NIW2017.

“Through our various media platforms, NMG will ensure that the Nairobi Innovation Week 2017 activities will be given prominence,” he said. “We will make available the opportunities that will make the Innovation Week a success.”

Themed, ‘Innovating to Solve Pressing Local and Global Challenges,’ the Nairobi Innovation Week 2017 will be held from March 6-10, 2017 at the University of Nairobi, Main Campus.
